

HELPING REBUILD MORE THAN HOMES

Why Service Creates the Strongest Relationships

The Spokane wildfires left behind devastation, but also an opportunity to come together. When we lead with compassion, we rebuild more than homes—we rebuild hope, trust, and stronger communities.

SERVICE BUILDS LEGACIES.
NOT JUST STRUCTURES.

COMMUNITIES ARE REBUILT THROUGH PEOPLE

NEIGHBORS
HELPING NEIGHBORS

MEALS THAT BRING HOPE

VOLUNTEERS WHO SHOW UP

BUSINESSES THAT CARE

DOORS OPEN,
HEARTS TOO

STRONGER TOGETHER

TRUST IS THE MOST VALUABLE THING YOU CAN BUILD

People remember how you treated them in their hardest moments. Trust built in times of crisis creates relationships that last for years.

- ✓ Be honest.
- ✓ Communicate clearly.
- ✓ Deliver on promises.
- ✓ Go the extra mile.

ONE PERSON STARTED THE FIRE.
THOUSANDS WILL LEAD THE RECOVERY.

Destruction may begin with one person, but recovery always belongs to the community.

HELPING OTHERS
CHANGES YOU TOO.

Service builds gratitude, purpose, and a deeper connection to the place you call home.

PURPOSE WILL OUTLAST PROFIT.

Profit may be measured in dollars. Purpose is measured in lives forever changed.

KEY TAKEAWAYS

Lead with service before seeking opportunities to sell.

Trust built in difficult times creates lasting relationships.

Every act of kindness helps rebuild more than homes—it restores hope.

Communities remember who showed up and how you helped.

Your legacy is measured by the lives you impact, not just the profit you make.

ALWAYS SEEK KNOWLEDGE
—ASK. LEARN. CONNECT. GROW.—

Be part of the solution. Be part of the story.

Together, we can rebuild our community—and create relationships that will last for generations to come.

SHOW UP. LEND A HAND. CHANGE A LIFE. ❤️
